FOSTER CONFIRMED.

Escape After Nineteen Days' Burial.

THE OHIO AND GILA HIGHER.

Feared That Yuma is Swept Away.

Negroes Leaving Arkansas for Oklahoma.

[The wires are badly demoralized again to-day and the dispatches from both the east and west are very meager. Repairs to the western wires will occur so late that the GAZETTE is compelled to go to press with only a partial report.—EDITOR GAZETTE.]

The Gila Higher.

By Associated Press.]

GILA BEND (Ariz.), Feb. 23.—The second suspension of traffic on the Soutnern Pacific Railroad in Arizona occurred Saturday afternoon. Water from the Gila river overflowed the track at a point about thirty miles east of Yuma for a distance of four or five miles, causing considerable damage to railroad and other property. Salt river, near Phœnix, rose ten feet in an hour, sweeping away many adobe houses. One thousand people in the valley of the Salt river are homeless. The branch railroad running from Maricopa to Phœnix is completely washed away and wrecked ont of existance. The west-bound train has been held at this place since 3 o'clock, and there is no immediate prospect of moving. The Colorado river at Yuma threatens to inundate that place. A large force of men is engaged in building dikes to save the town from overflow.

YUMA (Ariz.), Feb. 23.—Yuma is entirely under water. The Gila broke the levee at 4 o'clock last evening. Gus Lee was drowned in his bed. A large number of live stock were drowned. The river is still rising, and if it continues will entirely destroy the town. The railroad office is under water.

SAN CARLOS (Ariz.), Feb. 24.—There was a cloud-burst yesterday and two and a half inches of rain fell in six hours, making six inches since Thursday. The Gila river is higher than ever known. Indian farms, ditches and flour mills are all ruined.

PHŒNIX, Feb. 24.—Late advices this afternoon said Yuma was threatened with an inundation, but the Gila river is changing its bed from where it empties into the Colorado. All wires are down now, and it is supposed part of the town is swept away.

The New Secretary.

By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Ex-Governor Foster says: "I am in thorough accord with the President in his views on free coinage. I do not think that the unlimited coinage of silver would be practicable at all, whether the silver to be coined were the product of our own mines or not. I am a bimetallist, however, and believe in maintaining the ratio of gold and silver so that a parity in the value of the two metals may be brought about. This can be accomplished, it seems to me, best by methods at present adopted, until the world is ready to undertake some movement by which all the civilized countries will recognize the metals. I have felt that the present rate of coinage is not too great for the needs of the country."

It is stated that Chase Goon will probably be Foster's assistant.

Ohio Rising.

By Associated Press.]

CINCINNATI, Feb. 24.—The river is rising to-day at the rate of half an inch an hour, and at one o'clock had reached 57 feet. News from Ripley, forty miles above, is that it is rising at the same rate while other points indicate it falling. Rain is falling at nearly all points from here to the head waters. There is no material change in the situation here. In Covington, Ky., the rolling mills have stopped and many families were compelled to move to higher ground.

Changeable Weather.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—The weather is very unsettled. Early this morning it was clear and sunny, but at 9:15 rain began falling lightly.

Tax Collector Gone.

By Associated Press.]

HONESDALE (Pa.), Feb. 24.—Frank Gabel, recently re-elected tax collector of Texas township has disappeared, leaving a shortage of $22,000.

Miraculous Escape.

By Associated Press.]

HAZLETON (Pa.), Feb. 24.—Four Hungarians rescued from the caved-in mine were brought to the suface this morning, and given a small amount of lime juice, milk, etc., and allowed to rest. They will probably recover from the effects of their long confinement. It is impossible to try to get a statement from any one of the men, as their weakened condition prevents. All the men are so weak that a simple movement to be heard is impossible. How they lived for more than nineteen days is a question. The dinner in their pails would have been sufficient to sustain life for eight days perhaps, if dealt out sparingly. What they lived on the remainder of the time is the subject of various conjectures.

The clear portion of the mine where the men were found was "cushioned" by fresh air. After the terrible rush of water on that awful day the good air came into this breast, where it was driven to the highest point by water. The men sought that locality, and there they were found.

Twenty-three men were in the mine when the disaster occurred. Six of these escaped, leaving seventeen. All are now recovered, the last of the dead being found near the place where the four live miners were discovered.

To day's Races.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

GLOUCESTER, Feb. 24.—First race—Mile and one-sixteenth—Elizabeth F., first; Baltimore, second; Ralph Black, third. Time, 2:02.

Second race—Nine-sixteenth mile—Carmen, first, Madge L., second; Ascot, third. Time, 1:02¾.

GUTTENBERG, Feb. 24.—First race—eleven-sixteenths of a mile—Toano first, Flagrant second and Patti third. Time, 1:12¼.

Second race—mile and one-sixteenth—Vosburg first, Eminence second and Dundee third. Time, 1:58½.

Exodus of Negroes.

By Associated Press.]

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.), Feb. 24.—An exodus of negroes to Oklahoma from this State is in progress. Last night a hundred left Pulaski county, and by next Saturday five hundred more will have left.

IMPORTANT TELEGRAMS.

Dispatches Sent to the Directors of the Southern Pacific Company and Hon. C. P. Huntington To-day.

The following telegrams were sent to Hon. C. P. Huntington and the Board of Directors of the Southern Pacific Company this afternoon and explain themselves:

RENO, Nevada, Feb. 24th, 1891.

Hon. C. P. Huntington, President of the Southern Pacific Company, Mills Building, New York: There is a bill now pending before the Nevada Legislature creating a State Board of Equalization, gotten up, we believe, in the interest of the railroad properties, at the expense of other tax payers.

We know that you would not sanction any such unjust measure if made acquainted with the facts. It is our desire that the same pleasant relations now existing between the Southern Pacific Company and the people of Nevada may continue, and to that end appeal to you for protection.

We are all working with a view of building up a commonwealth worthy the name, and dislike to encumber our statutes with a law so manifestly unjust.

Will you not lend your powerful influence in behalf of the whole people of Nevada to stop such unwise legislation.

We send you per mail, a copy of the bill in question.

RENO, Nev., Feb. 24, 1890.

To the Board of Directors of the Southern Pacific Co., 4th and Townsend Sts., San Francisco—GENTLEMEN: It is understood that your company is favoring the passage of Senator Williams' bill creating a State Board of Equalization. We cannot believe your company favors such an unjust law, for we are all working with one common purpose—to build up Nevada—and we realize that every interest within our borders will have to lend its aid if anything in that direction is accomplished.

By the provision of the bill in question the railroad properties in the State will not be called upon to share their just burden of taxation, and believing that it is not the desire of your company to take any undue advantage of the people of this State or to shirk any responsibility at the expense of other tax payers, we appeal to you.

It cannot be your wish to kindle the flame of antagonism. It is most certainly our desire that the same pleasant relations now existing between the Southern Pacific Company and the people may be maintained, and the protection which your company has the power to give is respectfully asked in this matter.

They were both signed by business men as follows:

W. O. H. Martin	Allen C. Bragg
Geo. W. Mapes	W. P. McLaughlin
T. K. Hymers	F. M. Rowland
W. H. Gould	J. F. Emmitt
Folsom & Wells	J. P. Foulks
J. N. Evans	A. H. Manning
J. F. Aitkin	John Sunderland
D. C. Wheeler	C. F. Bender
A. Evans	E. C. Leadbetter

Facing The Penalties Of The Penitentiary

California Legislature.

Special to GAZETTE.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 24.—The Apportionment bill was made the special order for 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. The General Appropriation bill was then discussed.

The bill went over for the present. Shanahan moved to strike out the appropriation for the salary of railroad commissioners, and said that in the past year they had not done more than twenty-four hours work.

SENATE.

The bill providing for an increase in the force of the Attorney General's office was declared a case of urgency and passed.

The names of Charles Sontag and Robert T. Devlin as Prison Directors were sent in by Governor Markham for confirmation as neither one of the gentlemen had ever properly qualified, and they were both confirmed.

Bidding for a Fight.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—The Globe-Democrat this morning printed a communication signed by Billie Simms and Sam Berliner of San Antonio, Texas, offering a purse of $15,000 for a finish fight with skin-tight or two-ounce gloves between Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim S. Hill of Australia, the fight to come off during the San Antonio Fair in the last week of October or first of November, Marquis of Queensberry rules to govern. As evidence of good faith they will deposit $12,000 with Roche of St. Louis or Luke Short of Fort Worth, Texas, as soon as the match is made.

Latest From the Wreck.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—Up to this morning only two bodies were recovered from the ship, Elizabeth. One of these is the Chinese cook and the other is believed to be, either that of one of the crew, or of Captain Henry of the Life Saving Service. Major Blakeney, District Superintendent of Life Saving Service, will hold an investigation shortly into the circumstances attending the wreck and death of Captain Henry.

A Freeze Out Game.

By Associated Press.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—A receiver is asked for the Lone Star Cotton Picking Machine Company by one of its stockholders. The company was organized in this city in 1889, with a capital stock of $5,000,000. The stockholder alleges, as the result of a conspiracy, that his stock was sold at a judgment sale to freeze him out. The Court issued an injunction restricting any disposition of the stocks involved.

Sixty Members.

By Associated Press.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—The National Congress of Representatives of American Societies began here to-day with about sixty members present. The only business this morning was the appointment of a committee to draw up a plan of concerted political action. It is denied that the congress contemplates the formation of a national political party.

The Whitechapel Case.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

LONDON, Feb. 24.—A statement made by Sadler, charged with the murder of "Carroty Nell" in Whitechapel, denies that he ever owned the clasp knife which it was said he sold the morning after the murder.

Election in Buenos Ayres.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

BUENOS AYRES, Feb. 24.—The elections for members of the Chamber of Deputies resulted in a gain to the government of several seats. Four opposition newspapers were suppressed.

Strike in Brazil.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

RIO JANEIRO, Feb. 24.—Strikes are extending and paralyzing business. The laborers on the Central railroad have struck. Traffic is stopped and the military is keeping order.

Money and Stocks.

By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Money is 2@½ per cent. The stock market is intensely dull and the dealings show considerable weakness in spots, accompanied by some activity.

NEVADA LEGISLATURE.

More Resolutions and Bills Introduced.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

CARSON, Feb. 24.—In the Assembly there were seven members absent.

McClellan introduced a resolution appointing a special committee on irrigation.

Bills were introduced as follows:

By Bell, abolishing the compensation of Auditors for extending taxes on the assessment roll.

By Leeper, providing for public libraries in unincorporated towns and cities.

By Farrington, an immense ballot reform bill.

Groves offered an amendment extending to women the right of suffrage and allowing them to vote at all elections, providing they conform to the registration and election laws.

SENATE.

By the Joint Committee on Constitutional Amendments, a bill to consolidate State offices, to take effect in 1895.

By Foley, compelling insurance companies to make annual statements.

By Gallagher, compelling the closing of gates through fields.

By Forbes, amending the Constitution, which does away with Grand Juries.

Congressional.

By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The Senate bill was passed granting a pension to members of the Powell Battalion of Mounted Volunteers of Missouri who served in the Mexican war.

The House Committee on Invalid Pensions to-day reported a bill granting a pension of $2,500 per annum to the widow of the late Admiral Porter.

The Senate this afternoon agreed to the committee amendments to the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill in regard to the World's Fair.

The previous question on the resolution was ordered. The resolution was then adopted and the direct tax bill was taken up.

The bill passed by a vote of 172 to 101, and a conference with the Senate was ordered.

SENATE.

The nomination of Charles Foster as Secretary of the Treasury was confirmed by the Senate.

The House bill to establish a United States land court and to provide for a judicial investigation and settlement of private land claims in Utah, New Mexico, Nevada and Wyoming passed with amendment. A conference was asked. The Sundry Civil Appropriation bill was then taken up.

Another Failure.

By Associated Press.]

CORPUS CHRISTI (Tex.), Feb. 24.—P. Doddridge & Co., bankers, have assigned. The amount of assets and liabilities is not known, but it is thought the former will exceed the latter. The assignees say the depositors will be paid in full.

Weather Forecast.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—The forecast is light rains, turning to snow in the mountains.

Grain Market.

By Associated Press.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—Wheat, buyer 91, 147⅞; barley, buyer season, 131.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Bar silver 96½.

At Rio Janeiro the Assembly finally adopted the proposed constitution.

The North River Lumber Company assigned to-day without preferences.

The Burlington (Vt.) cotton mills and lumber yard across the river, and several tenement houses were burned to-day.

It is stated that the Windsor (Vt.) National Bank, with a capital of $50,000 has gone into liquidation on account of heavy Western losses, but it is stated that depositors will be paid in full.

Inyo Items.

From the Inyo Independent is obtained the following items:

It is understood that the farm of the late Ezra Goodale in Inyo county has been rented for one year for $200. The place contains 160 acres of the best land in Owens Valley, and has an abundance of water. This shows how little value property now has.

Farmers in different parts of the Valley complain that they cannot find market for beef cattle. After feeding steers with alfalfa till they are in the finest condition for beef they are forced to turn the animals out on the range, and thus lose all the fruits of the labor and expense of feeding. In many instances the same animals have been fed and turned out two years in succession.

The Little Allen Boy's Condition.

Little Chester Allen is no better. Mr. Allen left Aberdeen, Wash., yesterday, but as the California and Oregon is blockaded with snow, there is no telling when he will be home.

Married.

Camille Lonkey of Verdi was married to Miss Georgie Hamlin of Reno yesterday. The happy couple will make their future home at Verdi.

There is an undelivered telegram at the W. U. T. Co.'s office for F. B. Breuington.

HARSH CRITICISM.

Lander County's Senator Hears From Home.

The People's Advocate, published at Austin, contains this criticism on the act of Lander's Senator on the Constitutional Convention question: Senator Williamson, according to the report of proceedings in the Senate, attempted in one of his eloquent efforts to show that the vote of Lander on the Constitutional Convention was vague and ought not to be counted.

To show that our Senator is a crank and not sound in the position he takes, and that he is not only betraying the trust imposed on him by both parties in this county, for both parties elected him to the Senate, we again summarize the vote of Lander county on the question.

Of the Democratic vote there were 256 votes cast "For a Constitutional Convention, Yes." Of the Republican vote there were 234 votes cast "For Constitutional Convention," and 71 votes cast "For Constitutional Convention, No." In other words, 490 votes for and 71 votes against.

The people of this county cannot refrain from concluding one of two things: Either that the Senator has not sense enough to know right from wrong, or else he is a tool in the hands of the bosses and lobyists, and in either event he is not a fit person to represent this or any other county in the Senate or any other place.

Beef for British Columbia

Louis Dean starts Thursday with a train of 18 cars of beef cattle for Vancouver, B. C. It seems a good ways to ship beef cattle but there is no beef in the north west so they are obliged to come to Nevada for their supply. Mr. Dean has to pay one-third their value in duty to get them over the line.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
Of Pure Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites Of Lime and Soda.
There are emulsions and emulsions, and there is still much skimmed milk which masquerades as cream. Try as they will many manufacturers cannot so disguise their cod liver oil as to make it palatable to sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion of PURE NORWEGIAN COD LIVER OIL, combined with Hypophosphites is almost as palatable as milk. For this reason as well as for the fact of the stimulating qualities of the Hypophosphites, Physicians frequently prescribe it in cases of
CONSUMPTION,
SCROFULA, BRONCHITIS and CHRONIC COUGH or SEVERE COLD.
All Druggists sell it, but be sure you get the genuine, as there are poor imitations.

Trouble Ahead.

Whither are we drifting? The sun of prosperity seemed to be rising in the east with a prospect of sending his life-giving rays athward the great western meat-producing country to give hope to the weary and long waiting. But there is trouble ahead. Brains, it appears, are to work out the salvation of the race in the line of food production, and the horny-handed farmers and stock raisers are to be relegated to the rear. Read the following from some enemy of labor:

The hen has to retire to the background as genius has come to the front with an artificial egg that can be manufactured at 3c per dozen, making it impossible for any well-bred hen to compete with the manufactured product. The hen's occupation as a producer was sadly encroached upon when the incubator was invented, and now that artificial eggs have been constructed mother hen will have nothing to do but scratch up her neighbor's garden. Appropos of this it might be well to note that the cow has lost a great part of her usefulness as a producer, as man's inventive genius has invented a substitute for milk and butter whose machinery for manufacture does not require 50c corn to feed to it to keep it in repair. Pretty soon, if this march of progress keeps up that class of once useful citizens and producers known as farmers will not be known, as genius will have supplied artificial means for producing food of every description, and the only possible article that the people will need is the money to buy the stuff with.

DID Nevada gain one new settler or add one farthing to her taxable property by the exhibit she made at the Centennial or World's Fair at New Orleans? If not, she should be particularly careful of what she promises to do for the World's Fair at Chicago. Unless it is going to be of some substantial benefit to the State, we ought not to appropriate one dollar. On the other hand, if the money we pay out is going to advertise our resources in such a way as to accomplish any good, we can affort to make a liberal appropriation. But a scheme should be studied up by some one different from anything we have ever tried yet to make it a success. An exhibition of our mining industry would be money thrown away, for that advertises itself, but something that would show up our agricultural resources might perhaps give us a return in the way of emigration, and that is what we want; but the State is not in a position to go there simply to make a splurge, and unless we can realize from the expenditure, there is no use wasting money.

REFERRING to the recent appointment of "Calico" Foster of Ohio, the Salt Lake Tribune says: Wall street still continues to be Secretary of the Treasury and ex-Governor Foster of Ohio has been appointed its agent in Washington. This is all right in these days of small things. Foster was, we believe, a successful dry goods merchant, and he will answer as well, probably, to carry out the views of the New York clearing house banks as any one. It is a little funny, however, to think of him rattling around in the chair that was occupied by Alexander Hamilton and Albert Gallatin. We are glad that the place did not fall to any one in the West. The West does not desire to be under obligations to either of the old parties.

THE growing tendency to quit cattle and embark in the raising of sheep will one of these days have a violent check put upon it. It is true that the wool growers have been on top for three years, and their prosperity is enthusing. But too many people are getting the sheep craze. Cattle will now rapidly grow into favor, and the man with the cow will again get to the front.

SENATOR STEWART thinks that if the Farmers' Alliance should nominate Senator Stanford for President in 1892, the Republicans would endorse him.

UP to date the losses of range cattle, taking the range area as a whole, have been less than experienced in any season for a dozen years.

A GIRL'S MISTAKE.

The Clever Ruse by Which She Robbed a Rich Californian.

"During the month of September, 1889, I was employed on a confidential case in St. Paul, Minn.," said Detective Ainge, of the New York, Ontario & Western railway service to a Utica Herald reporter, "and was one day standing in the Union depot watching for a suspected party, when a train came in well filled with passengers. Among those who alighted was a wealthy gentleman from the Pacific coast. Just as he stepped on the platform a handsome young woman, apparently about twenty years of age, rushed into his arms saying: 'Oh, papa, papa, I'm so glad you've come,' and with that she began to shower the bewildered Californian with kisses. Then she gave a short, frightened scream, rushed through the crowd, entered a hack, and was driven away. We all supposed it was a case of mistaken identity. The Californian enjoyed the mistake.

"He came to me and the railway officer, who were talking about some business, and said it was a good joke, and he guessed we had better take something on the strength of it, as the kisses were worth considerable. We proceeded to the hotel, and he took his smile while the officer and myself took a cigar. When the Westerner came to pay for the wine and cigars he discovered that his pocket-book and two hundred dollars were gone. Further search developed the fact that his fine gold watch and diamond shirt stud were also missing. The Californian could not imagine where or when the things had been taken. I examined his shirt front and discovered teeth marks where the diamond stud had been. There was no doubt that the handsome girl who gave him such an affectionate embrace had done the work. The Californian was mad, and called the policeman a dolt. After telling him that I was a detective, he asked me to take charge of the case and find the girl and he would pay me for services and all expenses. After placing my special agent on the case I was then engaged with I proceeded to Minneapolis, where I located the woman at one of the hotels. She had registered from Milwaukee. When I arrested her she told me her history. She had been a member of a wealthy family in Colorado. I told her that if she would return the money, watch and diamond stud the Californian would likely not prosecute her. I wired him and he answered the telegram in person. The woman gave him all the plunder, and then she told him her story of misfortune. He was much impressed by the recital, and I saw him with her at the theater about a week afterward."

THE MALE FLIRT.

Who Is the More Detestable in a Woman's Estimation?

One can not pass through a flirtation—man or woman—without lowering the tone of one's mind, writes Felicia Holt in the Ladies' Home Journal. I know that I seem to thus put mind before the affections; but in the prosaic nineteenth century hearts seem out of fashion. Cupid has taken a holiday and left us to our own devices; he loves an age when pounds and pence play a less conspicuous part, for love laughs at calculation. So our mental development becomes our highest consideration, and it must suffer in a game where only the sly trickster holds the trump card.

Dignity and trifling put each other out of countenance, as does the bishop and the clown; and when a man and woman enter with deliberation into the unworthy joust of tilting one's attractions against the other with no other aim than the gratification of his or her vanity, then, I say, neither party can come out unscathed, either mentally or morally.

If one is more detestable than the other, it is the male flirt; for since custom has given him the power of making the advance, he can do the most harm, particularly should he practice his cruel arts upon an unsophisticated girl; she may fall a victim to his cruelty.

A man may recover from a bitter encounter of this sort a sadder and a wiser man; his trust in woman may be terribly shaken, but he does not succumb, as does the woman, whose heart, once wiled from her keeping, grows weary of the world.

And, incredible as it may seem, women are quite as much to blame as men for the sin of flirtation. For if they condemn the sin, they invariably smile upon the sinner, specially if he is handsome and attractive.

The Bagpipe in Asia.

The bagpipe is almost universal throughout Asia, though at present not so much in use as it seems to have been in former ages. It is used among the Chinese musicians, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, and is met with in Persia, where it appears to have been more general in former ages than at present. There is also a Hindoo bagpipe, and in Egypt it was used to some extent, but is now rarely met with. In Italy it is common. It is said that the Italian peasant believes that it is the best beloved music of the Virgin Mary, also that it is the instrument upon which the shepherds expressed their joy when they visited the Saviour. When the Italian peasant visits Rome on the anniversary of the birth of our Saviour he always carries his bagpipes with him. The Romans are said to have been acquainted with this instrument, and most likely the Greeks also. In Scotland it is the national instrument, but even there its use is dying out. Bagpipes are known in Scotland, England, Ireland, Germany, Spain, Italy, North Africa (at least I find a name for them in a Tuarick vocabulary) and in Syria. Probably many other countries have them.

Malaria

Is believed to be caused by poisonous miasms arising from low, marshy land or from decaying vegetable matter, and which, breathed into the lungs, enter and poison the blood. If a healthy condition of the blood is maintained by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, one is much less liable to malaria, and Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured many severe cases of this distressing affection.

A Wonderful Medicine.

"For malaria I think Hood's Sarsaparilla has no equal. It has kept my children well right through the summer, and we live in one of the worst places for malaria in Marysville. I take Hood's Sarsaparilla for that all gone feeling, with great benefit." MRS. B. F. DAVIS, Marysville, Cal.

Break-Bone Fever.

"My daughter Pearl was taken with dengue (or break-bone) fever 2 years ago, and my friends thought I would lose her. I had almost given up hope until she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. She took four bottles in four months, and gained 15 pounds. I thank Hood's Sarsaparilla for giving her back to me restored to health and strength." JULIA A. KING, Sherman, Texas.

JOTTINGS.

Attendant, in waiting room,—"Say, mister, no going to sleep here. This ain't no church." Hot lunch and beer at Jake Becker's for 15 cents.

The principal that cold contracts is well understood by the man who tries to keep a coal-bin filled. Engage J. F. Aitken and he will keep it filled for you.

Teacher—"Who discovered America?" Street-gamin (after deep thought)—"I disremember his name, but he was a Dago." Board at the Riverside Hotel and you will be happy.

Batten—"I understand that you have stopped boarding and gone to housekeeping. Where are you now? Flatten—"We are living with a servant-girl" Glasses to fit any eyes at Richard Herz's.

Shade of Henry Clay—"I see you'er getting out another dictionary, Daniel." Shade of Daniel Webster—"Yes; and I see you are still manufacturing cigars." Both together shake. C. A. Thurston has dictionaries and cigars also.

Its Excellent Qualities.

Commend to public approval the California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. It is pleasant to the eye, and to the taste, and by gentle action on the kidneys, liver and bowels. It cleanses the system effectually, and thereby promoting the health and comfort of all who use it.

Oh, What an Awful Breath.

There is nothing more healthful than onions. The trouble is that persons are afraid to eat them because they make the breath unfragrant. But there is a less fragrant beeath than that freighted with onions. We mean the breath of a person with a foul stomach. Take him away! we inwardly cry when he whispers in our ear. Do see that your breath is pure. Take a few Brandredth's Pills and regulate your liver, stomach and bowels and your breath will be sweet.

Several years ago Chamberlain & Co., of Des Moines, Iowa, commenced the manufacture of a cough syrup, believing it to be the most prompt and reliable preparation yet produced for coughs, colds and croups; that the public appreciate true merit, and in time it was certain to become popular. Their most sanguine hopes have been more than realized. Over three hundred thousand bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy are now sold every year, and it is recognized as "the best made," wherever known. It will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment. For sale by Shoemaker & Co., druggist.

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold, or any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial bottle free at Wm. Pinniger's drug store

There is no danger of a cold resulting in pneumonia when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used as directed "for a severe cold." It effectually counteracts and arrests any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia. This fact was wholly proven in thousands of cases during the epidemic of influenza last winter. For sale by Shoemaker & Co., druggists.

The First Step.

Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning, you are taking the first step into Nervous Prostration. You need a nerve tonic, and in Electric Bitters you will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprising results follow the use of this great nerve tonic and alterative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored and the Liver and Kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price 50c, at Wm. Pinniger's Drug Store.

How to Break up a Severe Cold.

From the Virginia City, Mont. Madisonian.

When we find a medicine we know to possess genuine merit, we consider it a duty, and we take pleasure in telling the public what it is. Such a medicine we found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. By the use of this syrup we have relieved, in a few hours, severe colds, and in the course of two or three days, entirely broken them up as has several of our friends to whom we have recommended it. It is all it is represented to be by the manufacturers. If you have a cough and want to stop it, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will do the work Sold by Shoemaker & Co., druggists.

CARSON LETTER.

Social Events of the Week—The Legislature—A Gossipy Communication from the Hub.

CARSON CITY, Feb. 22, 1891.

EDITOR GAZETTE: It was the intention of the Carson Guard to appear on parade to-day in commemoration of the birthday of the "Father of our Country," in order to impress the seriousness of being an American citizen, and to fire them with a patriotic feeling for their country's good, but the program was interrupted by an Oregon chenook storm, which dampened the ardor of a part of the standing army of Nevada so the parade was abandoned.

The week has been prolific of climatic phenomena, and we have had a little of everything from a balmy spring day to a Kansas cyclone. Notwithstanding the peculiarities of the weather, Carson has been lively with social events, amusements, some wire pulling, a fight or two, but no scandals as far as heard from.

THE GOVERNOR'S RECEPTION

On Thursday evening was largely attended by the members, as well as the good people of Carson, and Governor and Mrs. Colcord excelled in entertaining their guests. All spent a pleasant evening and came away with the single opinion that the Governor and his worthy lady were "great people" and in the right place. There was no ceremony, and the humblest citizen was accorded as much attention and made to feel as much at home as if he were a shining light in the Carson Four Hundred.

THE STATE UNIVERSITY

Excursion on Friday brought the students and their friends to the Capital at an early hour, and every effort was made by Government and State officers and attaches to make the visit of the boys and girls a pleasant and profitable one. They soon scattered into groups, visiting the Legislative halls, State institutions, etc., where every courtesy was shown them, and in the afternoon the U. S. Mint, where Superintendent S. C. Wright personally supervised the conducting through the several departments, where all details were fully explained. Mr. Colburn, the Coiner, had arranged to have the coining presses running, so the visitors had the opportunity of seeing the entire process of rolling out, cutting and coining the blanks. All gave strict attention to the explanations, and were well pleased. The students in their bright uniforms presented a fine appearance, and by their courteous and polite bearing made many friends. Nearly all expressed themselves well pleased with their visit, and returned home as happy as they came.

THE CARSON GUARDS

Gave a uniform ball on Friday evening, which was largely attended. Early in the week the Grismer-Davies troupe entertained the theater-goers, so, considering all things, the

LEGISLATORS

Have had variety enough to relieve the strain on their overworked brains, and assisted them to while away the time between the hour and a half sessions of each day. There are several measures being considered in committee which are important and will of course have to be carefully canvassed before action, or the passage of them would perhaps amount to little, save the simple fact of voting on them, to afterwards be considered dead laws on the statute books or of no effect.

The apportionment bill, cutting down the members of the Legislature, is an important measure, and one that is badly needed, but while it is all right to cut out members from Washoe, Eureka, Elko and other counties, it is not the thing exactly, in the opinions of the members from Storey, to reduce the ten Assemblymen and three Senators from that county to a proportionate representation consistent with the population, tax list, etc., of that county, in comparison with the counties named. Oh! no; they are economists, but let the State at large pay for the honor of having Storey county dictate the policy of the State government, while said county only contributes a small proportion of the expense. It is a useless presumption, however, to undertake to convince them in this inequality, for you will at once be met with the old hackneyed howl of "look at our mines," and "what would the rest of you do without Storey county?" Yet there are some people in the State who are foolish enough to believe, that if Storey county was fenced in and the fence whitewashed, the State would still exist, and the cow counties be dotted with productive farms and beautiful homes and thriving little towns.

The bill reducing the salaries of State officers and attaches is a good one, and it is believed it will pass in some form that will reduce the expenses of the various offices in the way of deputies, and at the expiration of the terms of office of the present incumbents, a great saving will be made. Several county office consolidation bills are on the way and will likely pass. Frank Bell's salary bill has caused much comment pro and con. Many believe it was a just measure, while others can't get it through their head that way. It was strongly supported by Thompson of Washoe in the Assembly, on the ground that it was just and ought to be paid. This of itself is pretty good evidence that it is proper, for it is not likely that Thompson would have championed the measure on account of his admiration for the beneficiary.

THE WASHOE DELEGATION

Are attending strictly to their duties, and while there is not much bombast, the members are watching carefully the interests of the county they represent, and in the final "round-up" will see that they don't "get left." Leeper has changed his walk from the main street, to the railroad track, but indulges in pedestrianism each morning. Kinney has a speech in preparation on the annexation of the Sandwich Islands to Nevada, and the advisability of reciprocity with the rattlesnakes on Goat Island, Pyramid Lake, for the benefit of the fishermen from Reno who frequent that place. Thompson talks of raising the rents and "inflooance." Emmitt stalks like the majesty of the law, and Foley with his sweetest smile greets you in the most Chesterfieldian manner imaginable, while our friend Holesworth, with gloves and cane, carries all of the dignity and importance of the Senate on his shoulders and graciously smiles at the lady committee clerks. XXX.

A NOTED PIONEER.

Irresistible and Irrepressible—Cheered by the Crowd and Saluted by the Emperor.

The pioneers of Nevada were in many respects, all alike, in this at least they all merited fame and fortune for the risk they took; the majority of them are still nearer alike, in another respect, and that is, that the most of them missed both. Still there is not one, yet alive, but enjoys a sweet morsel of satisfaction in the fact of being one of the venturesome band who aided in exploring the arid wastes, that yielded so many millions of treasure at a time when it was so badly needed. Many who made the most, have gone to the grave with the least, and among them, none perhaps had more flattering prospects than David E. Buel, whose mining operations were principally confined to the eastern part of the State. It is not the intention here to repeat his history, but merely to refer to a few incidents in his Nevada career, to show the irrepressible nature of the man. In disposing of mining properties, he made many trips to the eastern states, at a time when the ride was all by stage as far as Omaha; and he also made a number of trips to Europe, and in nearly all cases he was successful. On one of his eastern trips, after he had started the Eureka Con. on the road to a dividend paying property, he told a GAZETTE reporter, while he was packing an old well worn sole-leather trunk, as he closed and sat down upon it to fasten the straps, that it had journeyed with him eight times across the Atlantic, and altogether had traveled 96,000 miles with him on his various journeys. He was never satisfied without more irons in the fire at once than he could watch, and irresistible in his purpose to accomplish whatever he aimed at. This trait of character was well illustrated on his first visit to London and Paris. He was an utter stranger to Europe and traveled without a companion and to make his immense stature, of 6 feet, 4 inches, still more conspicuous he wore a very long skirted overcoat made of a yellow blanket, and ornamented with silver buttons of very large size, on each of which was engraved his monogram. With a pair of number twelve boots, and a number six hat, which he frequently called attention to, he was an object to attract attention even in the remote mining camps of Nevada, and when alone in a crowd in a London fog, or strolling along the boulevardes of Paris, he received more attention than if his head had borne a crown. During his first visit to Paris, attired in the above manner, he learned of a grand review of troops to be held for the Emperor and inquiring where it could best be seen, Buel started for as he termed it, the Imperial circus. Arriving on the ground he found the crowd so great, that no near view could be had, unless some point of vantage could be secured. A little observation disclosed in the middle of the review grounds, a small park, inclosed with a low iron picket, and what interested Buel most, it was not occupied. Fearing he would be too late, he asked no questions and pressing through the crowd, before the troops appeared, he strided across the parade ground, with his blanket overcoat and silver buttons glittering like a regalia, making for his chosen point of vantage. As soon as the crowd discovered his object, they set up a cry of

A RUSTLING, ENERGETIC MAN,

"VIVE LA AMERICAN,"

And cheered vociferously. When Buel reached the little park he did not stop to look for a gate, for he was in haste and expected it to be filled in short order by the crowd, so he stretched his long legs over the fence and, as he said, made the first location, and turned to watch the scene. He was all alone, and much to his surprise none were following him, and he was just congratulating himself on the march he had stolen when he was notified by the cheering of the crowd of the appearance of the Emperor and his staff richly mounted and with gorgeous trappings riding directly toward him. Buel stood, very much interested, taking in the good points of the horses and riders, when they halted and the

EMPEROR RAISED HIS HAT

And smiled at him. Buel was too much interested to discern what it meant until an Aide-de-Camp rode forward toward him, saluted and spoke in French words, which Buel knew not the meaning of; but with sturdy western independence Buel said, "spit it out young fellow, I don't know what you are saying." With this the Aid told him in choice English that he was occupying the Emperor's private review stand and they were waiting for him to vacate. Buel said that he wasn't long in doing so either, and was well satisfied with the distinguished consideration bestowed upon him in a bow from the Emperor.

Sickness in Candelaria.

The Chloride Belt of the 21st inst. says:

The supply of coffins became exhausted Thursday. Six were received by last night's train, three of which were used to-day.

There are four cases of pneumonia in town. Bessie Barlow, a girl of 11, is doing fairly, and there is a prospect of her recovery. C. H. Howard, Antonio Costa and Anselm Nock (generally known as Knox) are seriously ill. The latter has a wife and grown up children living in Austin.

William Knight, a native of Tennessee, in destitute circumstances, was discovered in a cabin on the hillside last Tuesday evening suffering with pneumonia. He was taken to the hospital in Hawthorne Thursday. Knight formerly resided on the Comstock, and in early days was an owner in several of the Gold Hill mines. He is said to be well connected in California and in the east.

The overland express train known as No. 3 did not arrive this morning until about 11 o'clock A. M. As no cause is assigned for its detention the public are left to draw on their own resources, and generally attribute the delay to the storm.

There is more experience, time and brain work represented in the preparation of Hood's Sarsaparilla than in any other medicine. It is this that makes Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar in its curative power, and in the remarkable cures it effects. Give it a trial.

"Mr. Hayes," said Senator Evarts, "did you ever set a hen on a scrambled egg?" "Yes," returned Mr. Hayes, one." "And what did she hatch?" "A fine fricassed chicken." Come off the perch birdie, and get your cigars from Marcus Frederick.

The funeral of B. Y. Hampton, Jr. took place on Sunday in Salt Lake city at 11:30 from the twentieth ward meeting-house. He was the son of one of the Destroying Angels of the Mormon church, and was killed in a snowslide in Idaho a few days previous.

The barometer has risen above the storm notch and evidently the storm is over. The temperature is also rising. At 5:30 A. M. it was 22° above, and at 9 A. M. it was 30°. The skies are clear and the sun is shining with dazzling brightness on the coat of snow that covers the ground.

No Apology Necessary.

The other day the Reno GAZETTE deliberately stated: "Lieutenant Governor Poujade has been appointed Brigadier General in place of General Booton." As Poujade is, by virtue of his office, Adjutant General, considerably outranking Booton, the GAZETTE ought to tell who takes Poujade's place. Is it a swap or an absurdity? An apology from the GAZETTE to both Poujade and Booton is in order.—[Enterprise.

Although a Major on the staff of Brigadier General Booton, we know nothing about military "tictacs" and we only had the word of our chief for it. He said that he had been removed and we did not question his authority and supposed we were shorn of our epaulets at the same scoop.

The White Veil.

The chapel of Mt. St. Mary's Convent was filled last evening with friends of the school to witness the rite of bestowing the white veil upon Miss Lulu French of San Francisco. After the singing of a hymn the young lady, accompanied by several little girls all dressed in white, advanced to the altar. Father Kiely then addressed her in a few well-chosen words on the duties and vows of a Sister and gave her the vestments of the order. Miss French, or Sister Antonio, as she is now known, will have a year's probation as a novitiate, and then, taking the black veil, becomes a Sister of St. Dominic.

To be Robbed of Health

By a pestilential climate, by a vocation entailing constant exposure, physical overwork or sedentary drudgery at the desk, is a hard lot. Yet many persons originally possessed of a fair constitution suffer this deprivation before the meridian of life is passed. To any and all subject to conditions inimical to health, no purer or more agreeable preservative of the greatest of earthly blessings can be recommended than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which inures the system to climatic change, physical fatigue and mental exhaustion. It eradicates dyspepsia, the bane of sedentary brain workers, preserves and restores regularity of the bowels and liver, when disordered from any cause, annihilates fever and ague and prevents it, checks a tendency to rheumatism and gout, and neutralizes the danger of being apprehended from causes productive of kidney, bladder and uterine ailments. To be convinced of the truth of these statements, it is only necessary to give this sterling preparation an impartial trial.

Life will acquire new zest, and cheerfulness return, if you will impel your liver and kidneys to the performance of their functions Dr J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm will stimulate them to healthful action. $1.00 per bottle.

PERSONALS.

No Public Meeting.

The program has been changed in regard to a public meeting to-night and many prominent citizens and taxpayers will go to Carson instead, to work against the passage of the bill creating a State Board of Equalization. All that could have been accomplished by a public meeting has been done on the street. The people of Washoe are in earnest about the matter and will move as one man in the premises.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

A City Lady Who Required Proof Before Believing.

There recently appeared in the San Francisco Call, Chronicle, and Examiner, a proposition hitherto unheard of. It was an advertisement in which the Edwin W. Joy Company, in proof of the curative properties of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, offered to submit it to the terrific test of "no cure no pay." Many accepted, and their experiences are so convincing as to be almost beyond belief. Here is another, written under date January 6, 1890:—

DEAR SIRS: I accepted your offer to test the merits of your vegetable remedy in sick headaches, and called for a bottle and got it. I had been troubled for a long time, and had tried nearly everything, with little or no effect; but Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla acted almost like magic, and the first bottle relieved me from one of the worst cases of sick headache one ever had.

We will from time to time publish others of these letters. It is doubtful if any remedy was ever before submitted to such a severe ordeal.

The Great Spring Medicine—The Blood Is the Life.

GENTLEMEN: I have been troubled with bad blood for some years, but recently purchased two bottles of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, which has entirely cured me. As a blood purifier it has no equal, and I also take pleasure in recommending it as a tonic, alterative, and reliable rheumatic remedy.

Very truly yours,
S. E. FERGUSON, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

This is to certify that we know Mr. Ferguson, and believe the statement made by him to be true. We unhesitatingly recommend this remedy as we believe it to be the greatest family medicine on our shelves.

CLIQUES IN CLUBS.

Every Large Club Has Its Sets of Fellows Who Ride Hobbies.

In every large club there are sets or cliques. Every other member naturally drifts into one of these sets very soon after he joins the club, says a writer in the New York Sun. They may be defined in this way: First, there is the billiard set. Its members rarely visit any other part of the club than the billiard room, and every other member knows just where to find them. They are usually evening men, for the billiard tables are not much used in the daytime. Most of them are billiard experts—gentlemen experts, of course—and they can not tolerate the ordinary billiard player.

Then there is the card set. Not all the clubs allow card playing, but most of them do. In a good many of the clubs whist is nominally played, but actually all sorts of gambling games with cards are permitted. All the card players in the club gradually drift into this set. Of course, occasionally, men play a quiet game without becoming slaves to the habit, but these are not members of the card set, and their presence is not at all desirable to the latter.

There are some men who have fallen into the habit of breakfasting at their clubs, and are never seen there at any other time. Others come only to luncheon. Their places of business are not remote from the club-house, and they drop over there for an hour in the middle of the day. Sometimes they bring friends along, and they always have a good time. This is a pleasant set.

The set containing the men who hang around the clubs in the day-time is a very peculiar one. Its members are either wealthy young fellows who think it beneath them to engage in any useful occupation, or men who prefer to do their work at night. The latter are few. These are the men who constantly occupy the club windows and gaze out upon the fashionable throng with superciliousness.

A good many only see the club when they drop in on their way home to take a cocktail. They are family men, who go home to dine, and occupy their evenings with social engagements or domestic affairs. It is no unusual thing to see fifty men drop into a club between four thirty and six o'clock, just for the purpose of taking a little champagne and bitters, or a less aristocratic cocktail. These men rarely stay more than half an hour. The reading set contains a very desirable element of the club. Its members are quiet, gentlemanly fellows, who lend tone and dignity to the club and are always well informed.

The dinner set is not so well defined as the others. It includes men of all kinds, but there are particular men who come only then, and who are experts in good living. These are always good fellows, and everybody is glad to know them. A man who dines well must be a good fellow in his heart, and usually is an interesting one, too.

AFRICAN PIGMIES.

Stanley Tells a Curious Story About the Dwarfs and Their Poisoned Arrows.

When we first encountered the tribe who fought with poisoned arrows, writes Stanley in Scribner, we were not prepared to be greatly impressed with the danger, but we received a severe lesson in August, 1887, during a fight with the Avisibba savages. Young fellows, inspired by the example of Lieutenant Stairs, R. E., rushed with brave homicidal intentions to the front, and the tiny arrows sailed in showers past them; but some of them found their intended billets, and were arrested quivering in arms and shoulders. With contemptuous smiles the young men drew them out and flung them away, and some continued answering the savages with rifle shots, while others sought the surgeon, bearing with them the arrows with which they had been wounded. When the day's fight was over of course we had more leisure to examine the missiles, and our anxiety was great when we observed that they had been freshly smeared with a brown, gummy-like substance which emitted a subtle acrid odor, with a suspicion of asafœtida in it. The arrows seemed to have been plunged into a pot containing a goodly quantity of a resinous substance, and twirled around in it and well soaked and then lifted up in a bunch and covered with a banana or a piece of phrynium leaf. Quivers full of the arrows showed us that the weapons were considered by their owners to be dangerous, for those so smeared were tied together, head downward, and apart from the others.

Yet the wounds made by these slender arrows were mere punctures, such as might have been made by finely-pointed butchers' skewers, and being exceedingly ignorant of the effect we contented ourselves with syringing them with warm water and dressing them with bandages. In some instances affectionate men sucked their comrades' wounds, to make sure that nothing of the substance should be left to irritate them. In no instance was this method of any avail. All who were wounded either died after terrible sufferings from tetanus, or developed such terrible gangrenous tumors as to incapacitate them from duty for long periods or wreck their constitutions so completely by blood-poisoning that their lives became a burden to them.

An Humbled Vizier.

A traveler in Morocco tells, in "The Land of an African Sultan," the following story: "The Sultan, not long ago, discovered that one of his viziers was becoming too powerful. He therefore summoned him to tea, and complimented him on his great wealth. The vizier, becoming vain, boasted of the number of his houses, horses, wives, and slaves, and the Sultan rebuked him, saying that he was too rich and thought too much of himself. To show the man exactly what he was worth, his Majesty had him taken by soldiers to the slave-market, where he was put up for sale, and received only one bid of eightpence. He was then taken back to the Sultan, who said to him: 'Now you know your proper value—eightpence. Go home and ponder over it.' When the man reached home, however, he found that nearly all his property had been taken away by order of the Sultan. Only one small residence, one wife, one horse, and one slave had been left him."

AUSTRIAN LADIES.

The Training of the Aristocratic Women of This Old Nation.

Ladies of high birth are wonderfully capable, owing to their excellent system of education, says a Vienna letter to the New York Evening Post. Whatever they may be called upon to do—from cutting a dress to making a salad—they are always ready.

Young ladies with titles and fortunes are sent to famous milliners and dressmakers, where they serve a regular apprenticeship, and remain until perfectly able to cut and make any garment.

An Austrian lady who can not swim or does not know how to ride well is an exception.

Needle work of every kind, even to the making of lace, is part of every young lady's education. There is no smattering of any thing; whether she learns the piano or to draw, she learns it thoroughly: If she has no talent at all for an art, which is seldom, she lets that art entirely alone. Her pedestrian accomplishments put us quite to shame; her efforts of memory are another source of wonder to us.

The wonderful memory which enables Austrian girls to repeat sometimes the whole of "Paradise Lost," or an entire drama, comes from practice begun in babyhood.

Every day the girl is expected to learn a poem or a page. She often does it while making her toilet; and at last a poem requires but a single reading, and it is stowed away in the memory safely. As linguists they are famous. This, too, comes from learning when very young. As the court language is French, learning it is compulsory. Even servants are expected to speak both French and German.

The burghers' daughters will not condescend to the learning of dress-making and cooking, which the titled lady can do without its reflecting on her social position. And so the young women to whom such knowledge would be of practical benefit are inefficient, while all the ladies at the court have at their fingers' ends the power to do any thing.

The Austrian lady of station is acquainted with every detail of the cuisine. A story is told by Viennese ladies of another, who, having neglected this branch of her education, allowed, at a great dinner party which she gave, two dishes of the same color to be served in succession—a fault for which no excuse could be made.

INDIAN AND HEBREW.

A Comparison of Some Peculiar Customs of the Two Races.

Early travelers among the Indians claim to have found rites and ceremonies strikingly similar to those of the Jews, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. George Catlin, the artist, who spent a considerable portion of his life among the tribes, said he believed that they had Jewish blood in their veins, although he could not go so far as to identify them with the lost tribes of Israel. The Indians worshiped a great Spirit or a Jehovah. Idolaters were never found on the North American continent. The tribes had their council or medicine houses, which they held most sacred. They had their high priests and their prophets. They followed the Hebrew custom in not allowing the women to worship with the men. Fifty years ago the Sioux exploited the same belief that they are dancing themselves crazy about now. They maintained that the Indians were the chosen people of the Great Spirit, and that in time they were to triumph over the rest of the world through a Messiah.

In marriage the Indians had customs which savored of Palestine. They gave presents for their wives. In their bathing and in their family relations they followed with remarkable precision many of the requirements of the Mosaic law. They observed certain laws of purification which the Old Testament teaches. Fifty years ago travelers found no difficulty in discovering the practice of these rites and ceremonies by the Indians. But as the line of white settlement advanced the Indians gave up their old customs. Their forms were laughed at by white men and many of them were abandoned. The ghost dance, which the Sioux have been scaring the frontier with, is the old sun dance under a new name. It used to be practiced frequently as an atonement ceremony.

There was once an Indian feast which was very like the annual feast of the passover. Some of the tribes kept a feast with branches of willow and preliminary fasting, which bore striking resemblance to the Feast of Tabernacles. The practice of offering to the Great Spirit the first green corn, and the first fruits of all kinds, was almost universal among the Indians before they became contaminated with white men.

PAPER HORSESHOES.

The Process by Which They Are Manufactured.

The need of a more or less elastic horseshoe has led to many trials and experiments, which, not resulting in any thing satisfactory, has kept the farrier's art in the same old rut of olden day. A new horseshoe has been made in Germany, says the Age of Steel, and it is constructed of parchment paper or a paper prepared by a saturation of oil, turpentine, etc., and impenetrable to dampness or moisture. Thin layers of such paper are glued together until the desired thickness necessary for the horseshoe is attained by an agglutinant, which is indifferent to the action of moisture, and which will not get brittle when dry (especially casein gum, chrome gelatine, copper chromate, ammonia, or a mixture of Venetian turpentine). The leaves of such prepared paper can first be cut to the desired form, and holes for nailing on the paper be stamped through, and the leaves glued together, one on top of another. Then the shoe has to undergo a very strong pressure, perhaps by a hydraulic press, is dried, and lastly rasped and planed. The holes can be bored in by boring machines similar to those used for brushes, instead of being stamped out. The fastening of these shoes can be done by nailing through the holes bored or stamped, as above described, or by gluing with bitumen, caoutchouc, or a mixture of gum ammonia, emulsion, one part; gutta percha, two parts. The fact of its getting rough makes the paper horseshoe a great advantage in preventing the slipping of the horse on smooth and slippery places.

Liver Complaint—Biliousness.

The chief symptoms of this disease are depression of spirits, foul coated tongue, bad tasting mouth, disagreeable breath, dry skin, with blotches and eruptions, sallow complexion, yellow eyes, tired, aching shoulders, dull pain in right side, faintness, dizziness and irregular bowels. This complaint in all of its forms can be readily cured by taking Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills as directed, and a lingering spell of sickness will often be warded off by their use.
